natural wood partitioning system

SAS system 5000

System description

SAS System 5000 is a nominal 75mm (3") relocatable partitioning system that provides acoustic performance. It is available in a range of solid timber species, single or double glazed with skirting and trims.

Glazed partitions are constructed with a framework of solid timber profiles.

Door frames are supplied as manufactured kits for rapid on-site fitting with a range of integrating doors available.

The overall thickness of the system is 107mm, with all exposed profiles available in a range of solid timber species. The components are designed as accessories for a relocatable, non load-bearing, lightweight performance partitioning system. The cavity within the system can be used to incorporate insulation material to enhance the acoustic performance.

Prices for System 5000 are available on request.
